THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, July 3, 1873.

The Second Arctic Expedition Promising to be a Failure.

The second expedition to the Arctic regions promises already to prove, perhaps, as signal a failure as the first, and from the same cause. The Juniata, Commander Braine, is hardly under way when Commander Greer, who is to have charge of the Tigress, writes to Commodore Ammen: "I will be in Annapolis on Thursday, and hope you will have instructions there for me to the effect that when I fall in with Braine he shall not, without my consent, interfere with the personnel of my vessel. I care nothing for newspaper articles, but thus far the public mind seems to centre on Braine entirely. Omitting the Tigress and its officers now, I don't care to have other men steal my thunder. If I find the Polaris before Braine comes home, I wish to have full charge of her, and power to detail such officers as I deem fit to assist in bringing her home. I hope, under Providence, to have a safe and prosperous voyage."

Assuming the genuineness of recently published extracts from a letter of Commander Greer, of the Tigress, in reference to what his conduct will be regarding the Polaris, and his declaration not to be interfered with by Commander Braine, naval officers here express surprise that he should have written such a letter, as he bears a high reputation for seamanship and caution in the expression of his sentiments. Besides, they are more astonished at the temper of the letter, as the general character of Commander Braine offers no ground for the assumption that he could undertake to interfere with the command of Commander Greer, who is in full charge of the expedition, in search of the Polaris, while Commander Braine, is dispatched to make inquiries respecting that vessel on the Arctic coast. The two expeditions are distinct, as are the instructions of the respective commanders.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 3, 1873.

A Murderer Scatenced to be Hanged.

Wm. J. Sharkey, for the murder of Robert S. Dunn, was sentenced this morning to be hanged on the 15th of August.

Lager Beer Declared Intoxicating.

The Excise Commissioners have adopted a resolution declaring that lager or malt beers are intoxicating liquors, and that their sale on Sunday is in violation of the law, and that the Board will not grant a license to any place where music is introduced. Sunday, the 13th, is the date fixed for the enforcement of the law.

RAILROADS.

Hannibal and St. Joe.

ST. LOUIS, July 3.—The Hannibal and St. Joe Railroad Company has instituted suit in the Common Pleas Court of Hannibal against Chas. P. Haywood, Collector of Internal Revenue, for fifty thousand dollars paid to him as taxes on dividends of the Hannibal and St. Joe Company, from January 1, 1870, to April 1871. The Company claims that this sum was collected unlawfully, and made application to the proper department at Washington to have the amount refunded, which was refused, and they bring suit against the Collector to test the validity of the assessment. The case will be transferred to the U. S. District Court of this city, and tried at the September term.

California and Central Pacific.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The California and Central Pacific Railroad Company having refused to deliver Government freights at San Francisco without the prepayment of charges accruing on railroads west of Omaha, the Attorney General decides that this is in violation of law, and that a suit will be brought against the Company for the recovery of freights without payment of such charges.

The U. P. R. R. Paying Coupons.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company is to-day paying coupons due July 1 of the first mortgage bonds of the Company, in order to comply strictly with the requirements of the injunction which was sprung on the Company on the eve of interest day.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The Judiciary Article—Police Magistrates in Cities—New Section Concerning Fraud and Bribery in the Passage of Laws—Resignation of Judge Woodward.

Tuesday's afternoon session of the Constitutional Convention was occupied in considering the section of the article on Judiciary, relative to issuing writs of certiorari to Justices of the Peace and other inferior courts by the Supreme and Common Pleas Judges, which was amended so as to confine the authority to the latter.

The section abolishing Aldermen in Philadelphia and substituting a system of police courts was discussed. Various amendents were offered by the city delegates.

On motion of Mr. Dallas, a provision requiring the Judge of these Courts to be learned in law was stricken out.

Amendments by Mr. Sample, changing the title of Judges to Police Magistrates, and by Mr. Hanna, fixing their terms at five instead of seven years, were agreed to. The section then prevailed. It provides one Court not of record for each thirty thousand inhabitants, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars. Police magistrates are to be elected by a general ticket, no voter to vote for more than two-thirds of the whole number to be chosen. They are to be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by the city and counties, except as modified by the section, such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, as is now exercised by Aldermen and Justices of the Peace, subject to such change not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction, as conferring political duties, as may be made by law. All fees and taxes in business of such court, and all fines and penalties to be paid into the City Treasury. Adjourned.

WEDNESDAY'S SESSION.

The Convention proceeded to consider the Judiciary Article.

Mr. Armstrong, of Lawrence, offered as a new section the following: Whenever within one year after the official publication of any act of Assembly in the pamphlet laws, and not thereafter, it shall be alleged before the Attorney General by affidavit, showing probable cause to believe that any fraud or bribery or undue means were employed to procure the passage or approval of such law, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General forthwith to apply to the Supreme Court or one of the Judges thereof, for a process in an appropriate proceeding, which shall be ordered of course, and in which the Commonwealth, upon relation of the Attorney General, shall be plaintiff, and such party for the Supreme Court or Judge, who shall grant such issue, shall direct, shall be defendant, to try the validity of such act of Assembly, and any party in interest may appear upon petition and be made a party, plaintiff or defendant, thereto; said issue shall be tried upon the proper pleading, by one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, in whatever county the Supreme Court may direct, and if it shall appear to the court and jury upon such trial that bribery, fraud, or false pretenses have been used to procure the passage or approval of the same, such act of Assembly shall be judged null and void, and such judgment shall be conclusive; the Governor shall issue a proclamation declaring such judgment; either party shall be entitled within six months next thereafter to a writ of error as in other cases; no officer of the Commonwealth nor any officer or member of the Legislature, shall be exempt from testifying when required in such case, but the testimony of such witness shall not be used against him in any criminal prosecution, except for perjury therein.

Thursday morning's session was occupied in arguing about adjournment.

RESIGNATION OF JUDGE WOODWARD.

The President pro tem., Judge Walker, sent to the Clerk's desk, the following:

PHILADELPHIA, July 2, 1873.

Hon. John H Walker, President Constitutional Convention:

DEAR SIR:—In pursuance of a purpose announced some ten days since in Convention, I hereby respectfully resign my seat as delegate-at-large in that body. I am, with great respect, your obedient servant,

[Signed] GEO. W. WOODWARD.

Mr. Alricks, of Dauphin, moved that the resignation be not accepted, and that leave of absence be granted to Judge Woodward.

UNICUMB, who stepped away from Venango county a few days ago with $14,000 of other people's money, has written back that he goes to Texas, to go into business there, and intends to come back and pay every cent of the stolen money, unless his creditors bother him in the meantime, in which case they will get nothing.

ON last Wednesday afternoon, a deaf and dumb man named Benjamin Williams, a shoemaker by trade, residing in Oshoville, Beaver county, committed suicide by shooting himself through the abdomen with a rifle. It is supposed one of the horses kicked him while he was attempting to catch them.

THE West Chester Village Record says: An Indian, named Richard Komes, for three years a student at Lincoln University, Chester county, has been selected as interpreter to Major Powell, and he starts immediately for Utah, to assume the duties of his appointment. He has a brother who is a chief of an important tribe. He left the institution on Wednesday evening last.

IT is stated on good authority that engineers connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad have surveyed a route for a new line of road leading from Bedford and connecting with the former at South Fork. We also learn from the same source that ten miles of this railroad at the Bedford end have been contracted for, and the work of grading has already commenced.—Johnstown Tribune.

LAST Monday evening, Fred. Meithaler had his leg crushed on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Lancaster, Pa. It is thought he will recover. While lying on his bed of agony, he was interviewed by a degraded "cuss" of a reporter relative to his age, nativity, &c. The poor fellow stood it as long as he could, and when the reporter had ceased piying his questions, Meithaler looked up from his bed of agony and remarked, "Have you got all the information you want now?"

Reporter—(In a subdued and kindly voice) "Yes, sir."

Meithaler—"Then for God's sake kill me, or else keep away the other reporters."

YORK has suddenly become situated on a great railroad thoroughfare between Washington, the capital of the United States, and New Rork city, the great metropolis of the American continent. A new and through line of Railroad travel between these two cities has been opened in competition with another, and through trains start in at Washington and New York daily will pass through York. The connecting link of this great thoroughfare was completed last week at Baltimore, and the first through trris, without change of cars, passed through York on Sunday night, on its way from Washington to New York. The time for running between these cities is advertised at nine hours.

THE Altoona Tribune tells this story:—"A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ratburg, Fourth avenue, this city, thirteen days ago, which was probably the most diminutive specimen of perfect humanity ever ushered alive into this world. At its birth it weighed only one pound, and this weight was not increased, and eleven inches represented its length. A common tea cup was large enough to entirely cover its head and reach down to its shoulders, while its arms and legs were of the dimensions of one's little finger. These general proportions will give some faint idea of the smallness of the infant, which was perfectly formed in its every member, though its face looked like the face of an aged person. This little waif lived till yesterday morning, meanwhile partaking of sustenance up till within three days of its death. It was buried last evening. The coffin measured fifteen inches in length, and was four inches across. The father is a machinist in the employ of the P. R. R. Company, and is an estimable citizen. The mother, it is may be added, on another occasion gave birth to a child which weighed only three pounds, while two others of her children are hale, hearty, and give fair promise of living long."

QUITE a little excitement visited Franklin on Wednesday. As the new Savings Bank at that place is not quite finished, the money is kept for the present in the First National Bank at night. Yesterday morning, Mr. Braden, the cashier, drew $7,000, and on his way to the Savings Bank building stopped to transact some business at Blakesiee's Bank, during which he laid his money on the counter. Now, there has been two suspicious characters hanging around while he was talking, one of them seized the opportunity and the money. He at once darted into the street, followed closely by Mr. Braden, whom he had long chase, until the cashier had almost caught him, when the robber threw away the money, which Mr. Braden stopped to seize. But the cashier did not lose sight of him, and, having secured the money, started on again, reinforced by four more. Cutting off the robber from an attempt to reach the depot, he darted into an out house, back of the American Hotel, and throwing off his coat and hat, appeared in a change of garments, with which he had been prepared. His disguise was too thin, however, and he was captured and put in a strance vile. Had he succeed in his well laid plans he would have realized a handsome little amount. No money was lost.

THE city of Erie is somewhat excited over a claim by George Winbigler, who claims to be one of the heirs of the Winbigler estate at Erie, worth $1,000,000, and now managed by the county of Erie. It appears that three of the Winbigler or Winbigler brothers came to this country about the same time, and, while whose family settled in Erie, settled in the northwestern part of Pennsylvania, which subsequently proved to be Erie county, where he accumulated considerable property. He had but one child, a daughter, who was married, and both herself and husband died shortly after their marriage, leaving no heirs, and in fact none could be found up to the present time who could show any claim to the property. But it is now ascertained that the real heirs reside in Ashtabula, Ohio, and are among the most respectable of citizens. They feel confident to be able to establish their claim and right to the property. Part of the estate is included in the beautiful public park of the city of Erie and other adjoining lands and lots, which are finely improved. Measures are being completed to send an attorney to Germany to procure the proper family register, under official seals, while the records of the family since landing in America will be gathered.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

The Steamer Virginius at Aspinwall.

PANAMA, June 24.—The notorious steamer Virginius is in the harbor of Aspinwall. A Spanish man-of-war entered the port on the 21st inst, and on the same day also the United States steamer Kansas. What the mission of the Spanish vessel is has not transpired, but the Kansas, it will be remembered, is the same ship which over a year ago conveyed the Virginius out of the port from under the guns of Spanish frigates. The Virginius is undergoing repairs, and it is understood the Kansas will remain until her repairs are completed.

The Government of Honduras Overthrown.

News has been received from Honduras that the filibustering steamer General Sherman had landed a revolutionary party, headed by E. Paclas, at Utila, Honduras. The Government of Honduras had been overthrown by them, and a new one installed.

The Government of Guatemala Threatened.

Palacios and his followers are marching on Guatemala, and if they succeed in entering that territory in two or three days' march, they are almost uncertain to overthrow the existing Government of President Barrios, and re-establish that of the Jesuit, or Church, party.

ITALY.

Earthquake Shocks.

FLORENCE, July 3.—A dispatch from Belluno, fifty miles north of Venice, says shocks of earthquake were felt in that city and adjacent country this morning. A volcano near Farr, ten miles from Belluno, quiet for some time, commenced an eruption, and the water of a lake in the vicinity boiled.

A Contradiction.

FLORENCE, July 3.—The report that the earthquake in the northeastern section of Italy this morning caused an eruption of a volcano, near Farra, is contradicted.

MADRID, July 3.—In consequence of the passage of the bill abolishing constitutional guarantees, the Irreconcilable deputies have withdrawn from the Cortes, which action has served to restore quiet in Madrid. Detachments of troops are yet posted at various points throughout the city, and the utmost precautions have been taken by the authorities for the suppression of disturbances.

FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1873.

APOLOGETIC.

We are compelled, this morning, to ask the indulgence of our readers. We generally subordinate the claims of advertising to the demands of our readers, but this morning we are compelled to give way and permit more than the usual amount of space to be occupied by advertisers. We will give additional reading matter in subsequent issues.

BONDS at Frankfort 86¼.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 38½f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 115¼@115¾.

WE are under obligations to Senator Cameron for valuable public documents.

THE ex-Prince Imperial of France has been invited to attend our Centennial Celebration, but is unable to decide so far in advance. He cannot tell what duties may claim his attention at that time.

THE visit of Gov. Hartranft to the city on the 14th inst., will be availed of to secure his services in laying the corner-stone of the new Reform School buildings at Morganza Farm, in Washington county, It will be an interesting occasion.

ALREADY there is ill-feeling between the commanders of the vessels sent out to rescue the Polaris. The commander of the Tigress is outspoken in his demand not to be interfered with by Brainard, who commands the Juniata. Ill-feeling seems to have attended this unfortunate expedition from the outset. A display of moral discipline is needed.

THE ladies of Remington, Indiana, have a very practical way of giving expression to their temperance principles. They raided the saloons where liquor is sold, a few days since, and destroyed the stock on hand. They then informed the proprietors that their permanent absence from the town within thirty days would save a further visitation. The gentlemen notified have concluded to comply with the request.

THE Chicago Tribune confirms the statement of the New York Times that the Italian padroni have commenced to migrate west, and states they are already to be seen, in large numbers on certain streets in Chicago. We hope the most vigorous measures will be taken to bring these child corrupters and murderers to justice. If there is not a law that will apply specifically to them, why may not the children be arrested as vagrants and sent to the House of Refuge or Reform. Even this would be a mercy to the poor children.

YOUNG WALWORTH has been convicted of murder in the second degree, a righteous verdict, probably, under the circumstances, but one not at all likely to satisfy him or his friends. We will not be surprised should an appeal be taken, and an effort made to have a new trial. His punishment, under the sentence, can only be imprisonment. Doubtless the father wrote exasperating letters, the effect of which may have been to lead him to think that his mother's life was in danger. But this is not an excuse for the perpetration of murder. He may well count his self-fortunate that he has escaped so easily.

THE Supreme Court has reversed the decision of the Dauphin county Court of Common Pleas, Judge Sharswood affirming that Evans was bound to promptly report his collections, no matter what Governor Geary may have said. This decision accords with popular sentiment, and will have the effect of putting Evans in a criminal position. Whether the prospect of being incarcerated in the Penitentiary will have the effect of inducing Evans to disclose the names of his confederates, remains to be seen. The only hope of getting the money back is in the disclosure and prosecution of his accomplices.

ISN'T THERE just a little laxity in the manner of selecting Southern officials, by the general government? Major Elias Griswold, of rebel prison fame, has been appointed a special agent of the Post-office department. The Savannah (Ga.,) Advertiser, has this to say of him:

The notorious Capt. Wirtz was a sergeant under Griswold, and carried out his orders, and we know from actual experience of his treatment of Federal and Union prisoners, that if Wirt deserved hanging, Capt. Griswold should have been hung by his side. Such brutal orders, and still more brutal treatment of the sick, deserve some other reward than Federal appointment to office.

If Southerners must be appointed, let it be those who fought honorably during the war. Those who tortured Union prisoners deserve no favor.

CONCLUSIVE evidence that the famous "S. C." check which figured so largely in the Credit Mobilier investigation, was not paid, either directly or indirectly, to Schuyler Colfax, at last appears. Mr. John Drew, a lawyer of Washington, who has been absent in Europe for a year past, in the service of the Department of Justice, and who has just returned, gives a full account of the check transaction. He saw Ames in the lobby, conversing with a person, a stranger, about cotton. Ames excused himself, went to his seat, returned with the check, and went with Mr. Drew to the room of the Sergeant-at-Arms. While there, Mr. Drew clearly saw the check, and noticed the "S. C." or bearer. Ames drew the money, a $500 bill being on the top, and handed it to the person in the lobby. Mr. Drew made a memorandum of his interview with Ames, which fixes the payment of the check on the 22d of June, 1868. This clears Colfax entirely of the transaction referred to.

THE DAY.

The recurrence of our National Anniversary naturally directs our thoughts back to the "time that tried men's souls," and to the growth and prosperity of the country since. That our fathers, in developing the form of government we possess, "builded better than they knew," seems entirely probable, in view of the success of the Republic, as compared with those attempted in Europe. Yet the fathers cannot be credited with all the praise,—as the wisdom of their successors averted perilous dangers, and perpetuated what was wisely founded. The great error that crept into the original government was that of a seeming compromise with slavery, necessary apparently, and illustrative, at all events, of the conciliatory spirit that prevailed. Whether it was thought that the evil would gradually die out, or ultimately be destroyed, by peaceful legislation, is not so clear. It is quite evident that it was not expected to assume the proportions or pretensions that it did in late years. Out of this, perhaps necessary error, came our civil war, which cost the nation so much, in treasure and blood.

The growth of this people, and of the prosperity of the country, may be fairly spoken of as marvelous. The increase of population, while in itself remarkable, does not compare with our advance in material wealth, and in all those developments in art and science which have so greatly multiplied our means of enjoyment. Particular references, in illustration of this, may seem trite, as they have frequently been made before. Yet we have only to refer back to revolutionary times to know that Pittsburgh was practically a frontier town—and to be reached only by laborious marches through wilderness and forest. It is almost amusing, now, to think of Washington with an army rarely numbering more than ten thousand men, and oftener from two thousand to three thousand, battling for the freedom of a country so large as this. The scope of his chief military operations, how limited! To-day the railroad and telegraph have made the people of every portion of our extended domain to be neighbors, and business men, after a fall day's duty at home, easily and comfortably reach cities hundreds of miles distant by business hours on the morrow. Our resources in material wealth have been rapidly developed, and yet we are only on the verge of the prosperity that awaits us. The great peculiarity is in the uniformity with which we have advanced in almost every variety of progress and prosperity.

Despite the gloomy forebodings of would-be-prophets, we cannot but think that the progress and permanency of Government thus far, are indications of similar results in the future. Nearly one hundred years of success cannot be attributed to accident or carelessness. There are certainly qualities inherent in the American people which account for the success achieved. It is urged, at times, that we are not a distinct people,—that the influx of foreigners, from all countries, and the short time that has elapsed since the country was settled, give us a cosmopolitan character, and that thus, while a nation we do not comprise a distinct people, with national characteristics, as do the French, Germans, or English. We are strongly inclined to dispute this idea. Whether it be climatic influence, the example everywhere observable, or the sense of freedom and independence that is imparted by the Government, it is at all events clear, that energy, self-reliance, and mental activity are characteristics of the people here. The proverbial Yankee, sharp, shrewd, money-making and self-asserting, does, in a somewhat extravagant manner, "the true—illustrate the prevailing national tendency, and it is surprising how rapidly the children born in the country to immigrants take to themselves the national characteristics. As a rule, it matters little whether the parents are simple-minded, honest workers, like the Scandivanians or Swedes, are phlegmatic and slow, as are so many of the Germans, or are nervous, excitable and impulsive as are the French or Irish, their children, born here, are apt to be largely endowed with American characteristics. Whatever the influence that produces the result, such is the fact.

To this mental independence and activity may be ascribed, in large measure, the inventive propensities so prolific in patents, some of which are of so much practical benefit. The sewing machine, the reaper and mower, the electric telegraph, if not the railroad, are peculiarly American inventions and discoveries. The tendency toward the practical in inventions is partially the outgrowth of an immense demand for work and achievement, beyond the power of mere physical effort to supply. An invention of practical utility is sure of meeting a liberal sale, and hence the stimulus to invention. The results thus far achieved are such as practically quadruple the working power of our population, and the producing ability of the soil. The immense harvests that are annually gathered, and which are more than is sufficient to supply the home demand, are possible only because of the complete and varied agricultural machinery we possess.

It is consciously suggested that, like the Roman Republic, our Government will yet be changed or destroyed, our liberties overthrown, and the nation decay. Political depravity and luxurious living are pointed out as the influences which will produce this result. We see little occasion for the surmisings. True, our people live more comfortably than they did half a century ago—but this comfort in living is comparatively evenly diffused, and not particularly luxurious anywhere. We have no examples that will even distantly compare with the extravagant luxuriance of the wealthy Romans. We have not the densely ignorant, poverty-stricken classes that were to be found in Rome. Moreover, all classes in this country work. The capitalist we have are allmodels of industry, and the same spirit of employment, and sense of its honor, ramifies the entire people. Here an unemployed person is regarded as a vagrant. The charge of political corruption usually comes from the party out of power, and is of little value. Hence we do not believe that the influences which led to the fall of the Roman Republic are actively at work, or largely developed here. Our people appreciate and love liberty, and will long maintain it as the glory of the country.

We are indebted to the insect tribe for chloroform, one of the most powerful agents in alleviating pain. The little ant contains a substance called formic acid, about which old John Ray and Martin Lester corresponded a century ago; and they found that it contained an acid, and it got into the books as formic acid. It was found to be composed of a compound radical formyle, and three atoms of oxygen. Dumas substituted chlorine for the oxygen, and thus obtained tirchloride of formyle which is chloroform. Then the Americans found that ether was capable of taking away all sensations of the human body; and Dr. Simpson, of Edinburgh, found that tirchloride of formyle was more thoroughly adapted for this purpose than even ether. All this has arisen from a study of the habits of insects.

RUSSIAN papers publish an obituary of farm stock lost in 1872 in the Government of Novgorod, and attributable solely to the ravages of bears and wolves. The statistics are not encouraging. The loss these 1,900 horses, 693 foals, 3,031 cows, 1,353 calves, 9,323 sheep, 95 hogs, and 144 geese were devoured by the wild beasts. The value of the loss is moderately estimated at 120,000 roubles.

Diseased Liver—Symptoms.

The symptoms are plain, and many of them also attend diseased lungs. When the liver is diseased it should be cured at once, and not allowed to run on until the lungs have become diseased, as it is harder to cure two diseases than one. Pain in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, which is made greater by pressure; sometimes there is pain also in the left side; sometimes pain is felt under the right or left shoulder blade, and it often extends to the top of the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. There is loss of appetite and sickness of the stomach; the bowels are costive at times, and again too loose; the head is sore and aches, with a dull sensation in the back part. There is a weakness of the memory and a proneness to let things remain undone rather than make the least exertion; there is weariness and debility, and a soreness in the limbs as if they had been pounded. Sleep brings no refreshment, and the languor and debility of all the person with forebodings of evil, and render life a burthen. The skin is cold and hot alternately; there is a prickly sensat on all over it; he feels like exercise, but cannot summon fortitude to take it. Dry cough, low spirits are common attendants. Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure and the Doctor's treatment is an unfailing cure. Read Dr. Keyser's Treatise, to be had free at his Medicine Office, 107 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY July 3, 1873.

There is no change to notice in the rates for money. Comparatively few borrowers are on the market, and as a natural consequence, plenty are willing to sell. The near approach of our great national holiday made business dull, and was the cause of commissions to will take place until the beginning of next week. In the meantime we call attention to the announcements of July dividends in our advertising columns. In real estate and local securities there is nothing new or remarkable to note.

In Philadelphia good borrowers readily obtain all they want at 5 and 6 per cent. on time, prime discounts. The speculative market is without material change. Gold and silver quiet and nearly prices fairly held. In some of the list there was a marked upward tendency; sales of Pennsylvania, the third series, at 107 and 107¼, new at 106¾; Reading No. 1 road was strong at 55¾, without sales; Pennsylvania sold at 54¾; Little Schuylkill at 49¾; Oil Creek at 38; Lake Shore at 94¾; Long Island at 54½, and Lehigh Valley at 63½; 62¾ was bid for Catawissa preferred. In canal stocks 30¾@30¾, b. o., was bid for Lehigh, and Schuylkill preferred sold at 15, ex-div.

NEW YORK, July 3, 1873.

Money was easy at 4 to 5. Sterling was dull at 109½ to 109 3-16 for sixty days, and 110 f.r sight. Gold was quiet and firm at 111¾@111¾. Loans from 2¾ to 4 for carrying. Clearings $90,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $60,000 on account of coin interest, $97,000 in redemption of 5-20s, and $173,000 on account of currency interest. Governments were quiet and dull. State bonds were neglected. The stock market was dull, but firm, with outside Erie strong. Most active stocks left the street at 1 P. M. The only rumor of importance is that negotiations are far advanced for the sale of a large block of Chicago & Northwestern Common to parties, who have had nothing to do with the stock since the famous consolidation, the sellers being the clique which corn-ed the stock then. Colo. Vanderbilt has accepted the Presidency of the Lake Shore Railroad. There will be no session of the Gold or Stock Exchange until Monday next.

HOME NEWS.

Summer Changes.

Any of our Readers who may desire to have the DAILY GAZETTE mailed to their address, out of town, during the summer months can be accommodated by leaving their names at our Business Office. Sent to any address for SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS a month.

No Gazette on Saturday.

In order that all employes of the GAZETTE establishment may have an opportunity to celebrate Independence Day, no paper will be issued from this office on Saturday.

European Steamship Arrivals Yesterday.

A dispatch received at Max Schamberg's European Steamship and Telegraph Office, at No. 163 Smithfield street, announces the arrival of the Cunard Line steamer Cuba, at New York; Great Western Line steamer Arragon at New York; National Line steamer Canada at Queenstown.

Coroner's Inquest.

Yesterday morning Coroner West held an inquest on the body of Anthony Kilroy, an Irishman, fifty five years of age, who had been sick for a number of years, and who concluded to take a little walk yesterday afternoon, but he died before he could be got home. He lived in the Thirty-fourth ward, near Lorenz & Wightman's glass works. The jury rendered a verdict of "Death from disease of the lungs." Deceased leaves a wife and three children.

Sheriff's Sales.

Elsewhere Sheriff Hare makes announcement of prospective sales of real estate, among which is included some very fine properties. The official understands his business thoroughly, and has put the announcement in such a form that at a glance the real estate buyer can take in the salient advantages of the different plots—which is but another evidence of the manner in which every detail of business in his department is arranged, and of the consequent satisfaction given to all who have dealings with the office.

Our "comps," whose judgment in such matters is infallible, pronounce the chirographic skill displayed by Clerk Cluley, in the "copy" furnished us, as equal to anything in that line that has ever passed before their vision.

New Time Table.

A new schedule for the arrival and departure of trains on the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore Railroad will go into effect on Sunday next, and will no doubt give entire satisfaction, as it is the best that has ever been arranged for that road. The express train between Pittsburgh and Washington City will go through in ten hours, leaving here at 7:45 every evening and arriving at 9:25 every morning. The Through Mail will leave at 8 o'clock in the morning a d arrive at 9:40 in the evening. The Connellsville Accommodation, as at present, will leave at 3:25 in the afternoon and arrive at 10:45 in the morning. The West Newton Accommodation (now the McKeesport Accommodation) will leave at 5:25 in the afternoon, and will arrive at 8:30 in the morning. A new train called the Local Mail will leave at 6:20 in the morning, and will run as far as Connellsville. Five accommodation trains will run between this city and McKeesport daily, leaving at 10 and 11 o'clock, A. M., and 3:25, 6:30 and 11 o'clock at night. They will arrive at 6:35 and 7:35 in the morning, 12:20 and 2:05 and 7:40 P. M. In addition to those trains the mixed way will leave at 8:30 in the morning. The Hilldale's Accommodation will leave at 6:30 in the afternoon, and the church train on Sunday will leave at 10:05 A. M. and leave at 1 o'clock, P. M.

KILLED INSTANTLY.

Accident at the Frankstown Bolt Works.

Joseph Yost, a carpenter, was killed at the Frankstown Bolt Works last evening, about six o'clock, by a board falling on his neck, that was being lowered, breaking it and killing him instantly. The body was taken to his late home, on McKenna's court, on Liberty, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, and Coroner West notified to hold an inquest. Deceased was 32 years old, a native of Germany, and leaves a wife and two children. He was regarded as a very sober and industrious man.

REV. J. A. MILLER will preach evening next at 6½ o'clock.

THE Minersville church, in this city, is hereafter to be known as the Seventh Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh.

THE Baptists of Sewickley, in this county, have organized a church, and hold regular Sabbath and Wednesday evening services in Mozart Hall.

THE M. E. Church at Irwin station has been repaired and renovated, and will be re-opened next Sabbath. Rev Joseph Horner, D. D., will preach the opening sermon.

THE Banner has its bristles elevated and anathematizes the writer of an article in Scribner's on "The Liberty of Protestantism." The writer pleads for a wider range of liberty, for a pretty free thinking in fact, and the Banner is astonished at the publication of the article in Scribner.

PREACHING in the Central U. P. church, Allegheny, at the usual hour on next Sabbath by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Johnston. Communion services in this church next Sabbath week, on which occasion it is expected that the pastor will be assisted by Rev. W. J. Robinson, of the First U. P. church, Allegheny.

THE United Presbyterian Church of St. Clair, this county, will be dedicated to-day. Rev. T. Hanna of this city will preach the dedicatory sermon at half past ten o'clock, and Rev. J. T. McClure deliver an address in the afternoon. The ladies of the congregation will prepare dinner for all visitors, who will be made welcome.

THE Presbytery of Allegheny, on Tuesday of last week, in Sharpsburg church, ordained Mr. B. C. Henry as an Evangelist. The sermon was preached by Rev. W. M Robinson, and the charge to the Evangelist was given by Rev. Thomas Lawrence. Mr. Henry expects to leave in October, to labor as a Foreign Missionary in Canton, China.

THE Banner gives this item concerning a minister well known in Pittsburgh: "Rev. Henry D. Moore, formerly pastor of the Vine Street Congregational church, Cincinnati, retired from that church some time ago, since he is a Free Mason, which rendered him objectionable to some of the members. He has now opened a "Tabernacle" and introduced a brass band to aid in the service of singing."

A CHARLESTON, West Va., paper, of June 20, says: "The venerable Wm. S. Plumer, D. D., of the Theological Seminary of Columbus, O., delivered an address of remarkable interest and ability, from Eph. vi: 24, to a fine house, embracing representatives from almost every congregation in the city, at the First church, last night. In appearance Dr. Plumer looks as if he might have been a companion of Abraham or Jeremiah, and his manner in the pulpit is grand and impressive." Rev. Dr. Plumer was in this city last week, and preached in the Central Presbyterian church, Allegheny. He left for home last evening.

That they are authorized to assess damages upon those benefitted, and the plaintiffs pray the Court to adjudge the act of Assembly and the supplement thereto, providing for the improvement to be unconstitutional, null and void, or that so much of the act as provides for the assessment of damages be declared in valid and of no effect. In the second place a preliminary and hereafter a perpetual injunction is asked for to restrain the defendants from making the avenue and assessing the costs.

In the matter of Ulrich B. Gillet, bankrupt, of Susquehanna county, W. M. Post was appointed solicitor to assignee.

Closing of the N. P. 7-30 Loan.

As has been announced by advertisement, the Northern Pacific Road have decided to issue no more bonds bearing so high a rate of interest as their present 7-30 bonds, after $30,000,000 have been disposed of. When the announcement was first made some $8,000,000 of this amount remained to be sold, a large share of which has already been taken. These bonds are very necessary to purchasers of lands, inasmuch as the company allows 110 for them when received for payment in lands. As the country along the line of the road is settling up with that marvelous rapidity that has marked the growth of all sections of the West through which railroads have penetrated, it is easy to see that the demand for these bonds, after the loan is closed, is likely to be quite sharp, and, as most of the bonds sold are held by permanent investors, they are likely to approximate in price the sum for which they can be used—110. Those investing their July coupons, dividends, etc., had better make a note of this.

A Cozy Spot.

Once more the "Glorious Fourth" has returned on the "wings of time." The day will be appropriately celebrated by Mr. S. Bash Smith, No. 132 Smithfield street, who has made arrangements to furnish his patrons with first class cigars at his cozy parlors. Mr. Barr, with his experience, knows just what gentlemen who can't get away from the city on the Fourth of July, need. The best brands of Havana cigars are kept on hand by Mr. Barr, and they include all the favorites: "El Telegrafo," "Le Beception," "Flor Finnas," "Henry Clays," "Figaros," "Intiguedad," "Irmas," and other equally well known brands. And then, his brands of domestics—they are choice in every particular. His stock of Snuffs and smoking tobacco, too, are something to look of; and his merchantable goods would do no merchant discredit. For anything in the smoker's line, first class and at reasonable prices, call on S. A. Barr, No. 132 Smithfield street.

"HOWE" IT WAS DONE.

The Storm Last Evening—Howe's Circus Tent Blown Down — Exciting Scenes—More Frightened than Hurt—Elephants on a Hunt — Grave Mistakes and Mishaps.

Last evening, about half-past nine o'clock, a terrible wind and rain storm passed over this vicinity, doing considerable damage on its way. On High street, a little boy was badly injured by being carried some distance by the wind and then being thrown down. A bucket, which he carried in his hand, had vanished. A steamer, lying below the suspension bridge, was blown up the river, above the bridge, and considerably damaged. Numerous signs and shutters were blown down, and the wind raised havoc generally.

IN ALLEGHENY

the wind and rain created quite a sensation. The performance which was going on in Howe's circus was abruptly brought to an end by a whirlwind blowing under the canvass, raising the center pole out of the ground, and completely raising the tent, knocking it down on the vast audience seated under it.

At the time that the tent was blown down the two clowns were in the ring performing their feats, and an audience was present of fully

SIX THOUSAND PERSONS.

Of course the blowing down of the tent caused an immense sensation and a panic. Men were frantically rushing for the door, women fainted and went into hysterics, children screamed, and the canvassmen swore at the unexpected extra labor in store for them. It was really a time of excitement, and such an excitement, as would strike terror to the bravest. Fortunately the canvass in raising split, and left an outlet for the excited mass of humanity within. Shortly after the accident occurred the cry came that there were

and the cry was made first ten killed, then twenty, till finally, the fatal list had risen to forty. But it was only in imagination. Investigation and thorough search failed to reveal the fact that any one was seriously hurt. There were a large number bruised and cut, but none so bad, but that they were able to walk out and go home without assistance. So far as we could learn the most seriously hurt were two young men, one named Archie Hoch, who received a severe scalp wound, which was dressed by Dr. Huselton, and the other was a young man, whose wounds were dressed by Dr. Sutton. Neither of them are seriously hurt, though they are badly scared. The accident caused immense excitement in this city, but it died away when it was found that nobody was seriously hurt.

The animals in their dens became greatly excited and some of the

which seemed to add fuel to the flames, figurative-ly, speaking, though the wind extinguished all light. The elephants became alarmed and three of them jumped the fence and started off. They raised several men with their little trunks, and deposited them in the mud, to the detriment of their new clothes, but they did no further damage. The other animals howled and growled, and the men swore. The Frenchman English speaking clown, spoke in a decided Irish brogue, while the various performers searched far and wide for their clothes, which were no where to be found. Some hundred men and women lost their hats, and the number of which were brought to the Allegheny Mayor's office. One man made a mistake in and took another man's watch, while another become so abstracted that he placed his hands in other men's pockets and relieved them of the contents, and so the work went merrily on. The lady riders were fairly drenched, and the gentlemen received a small deluge. It was unpleasant to the mind, but pleasant to the sight to see the many ludicrous situations that ensued on the occasion, but fortunately nobody was hurt, so we have no sad accident to chronicle.

The tent was repaired last night, and to-day the regular performance will go on as advertised.

THE PRICE OF LOTS AT HOMESTEAD PARK.

Cut This Out and Take it Along When you go on Excursions to Lot Sales.

The standard size of a Homestead Park lot is 40 feet front and 150 feet deep. Just five times the size of the "regulation" lot 24 by 100 feet.

The prices fixed on those "little farms" at Homestead Park ranges from $600 to $1,500, in 10 equal payments without interest. The average being about $1,000, if sold "with interest" at 6 per cent. The price of a $1,000 lot is, say, $780, or $156 for a lot of 24 feet front by 100 deep, but this takes no account of any of the other special features of the Homestead Bank's terms, to wit: free Life Insurance, second mortgage from those who build, only 6 per cent. per annum interest allowed for money paid in advance, which together may fairly be claimed as worth at least 20 per cent. of the nominal price of the lot which is thus reduced to (say) $125.

If Homestead Park was cut up into lots 24 feet by 100, the price would be but $156 per lot, on the "ordinary liberal terms" required by other people at other places.

And when anybody wants you to bid three to five hundred dollars for that kind of lots, tell him you can buy such lots at private sale on his terms at Homestead Park for less than half the money, and you can do it.

And when you are admiring the beautiful scenery, where some more than Vandal has "laid out" a plan of 20 or even 24 feet lots, remember that when that town is built up (if that time ever comes), all that natural beauty will be obliterated, and remember also that a Homestead Park is built not to be, but to be the only place in Allegheny county in which the streets and avenues are laid out as to preserve the natural beauty of the situation, and in which the lots are so large as to prevent the houses being built together in "rows," shutting out the view from each other.

No attempt is made here to describe or praise Homestead Park, because the entire vocabulary of encomium has beenexhausted, and has lost its significance through the late absurd and extravagant descriptions of places no more like Homestead Park than a piebald goose is like a swan. Those who wish to see Homestead Park and judge for themselves, are invited to call at the bank and get tickets for themselves and friends and spend a part of the "Fourth" inspecting the ground on which will shortly be seen the HANDSOMEST SUBURBAN VILLAGE IN AMERICA. Tickets good on any train.

TO-DAY.

The Glorious Fourth—How it will be Spent—Amusements, Etc.

Once more the cycle of time has brought around the glorious fourth of July, the day all America's sons and daughters, native and adopted, love to celebrate. The birth of glorious freedom ninety-seven years ago, causes the outgush of patriotism to-day. As we turn back a decade, what changes have been wrought, what improvements made towards the self governing power. To-day upon the soil of the United States, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Mississippi to the Rio Grande, all men are free and equal. The starry banner waves over a nation re-united, where a man is a man, no matter what his color or creed may be. In Pittsburgh and Allegheny very little preparation has been made to celebrate the nation's anniversary. No public demonstration is proposed and the day will be spent quietly. Most everybody who can get away from the dust, the heat and turmoil of the city will go to some one of the many picnics and excursions announced to take place. Salutes will be fired from monument Hill and from Cliff street early in the morning.

There will be no military display, and consequently everything here will pass off quietly, and, with the exception of the squibs and crackers that "Young America" will explode despite the ordinance, nothing will be done. Excursions have been improvised on the railroads, and special tickets for the day issued.

In the city, at the Pittsburgh Opera House, Duprez and Benedict's Minstrels will give a grand extra matinee, and a holiday performance in the evening.

Howe's Circus, in Allegheny, at the foot of Robinson street, opposite Smoky Island, will give three grand performances, morning at ten o'clock, afternoon at one, and evening at half-past seven.

Thus the day in this vicinity will be spent with quiet and unostentation.

The new method of curing Rupture will be exhibited to our citizens at the Monongahela Hotel in Pittsburgh on the 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th days of July, 1873. A physician from the ELASTIC TRUSS CO., No. 683 Broadway, New York, will apply the New Truss at office prices in New York. There was a sort of providential felicity in the invention of the new Remedy for Rupture. The people waited long in darkness, and despairing hope when the new Elastic Truss greeted their delighted vision. This new Truss retains the rupture in safety and comfort, night and da , in every case. Examine this new Truss while you have this great opportunity. 5,8,10-8

DISCIPLINE THE LIVER.

The liver is truly an "unruly member." Sometimes it is torpid and secretes too slowly, at other times it is unnaturally active and sends forth a perfect freshet of bile. Regulate this organ with Hostetter's Bitters, not with calomel or blue mass. Mineral excitants, in stimulating the liver, poison the blood, and their ultimate effect is terrible. The Bitters, on the other hand, have a vitalizing and purifying, as well as a stimulating effect. They not only regulate the flow of bile, but infuse new life into the whole system. A good appetite and perfect digestion, a regular, natural habit of body, a sound condition of the nervous system, vivacity of spirits, increased bodily strength and power of endurance, and refreshing sleep are among the blessings they promote. The temperature of summer is a severe tax upon the digestive and secretive organs, and the Bitters are never more indispensable than at this period of the year.
